

HELP with Serendipity

Q: How do I install the fonts onto my machine?

A: A handy guide on how to install fonts properly can be found here:
<https://www.fontspring.com/support/installing>

Q: Can I use this font commercially? I.e. for use on physical items I make for sale?

A: Yes, you absolutely may. You may use this font to create physical items for sale – for unlimited sales, unlimited projects – No Extended License is required.

Q: Can I use this font to make my business Logo and collateral (business cards, stationery, packaging, branding etc)?

A: Yes you absolutely may.

Q: Can I use this font on my website?

A: Yes you may. The only two cases in which webfont use is prohibited without additional licensing is

1.) When the font is to be used LIVE on the Webserver, where other people who visit the website can edit the words written with the font (Such as a Customizable greeting card website for example) – For this you will require a “ Custom Creation License”

2.) When the font is to be used in Web Templates for sale or distribution.

Q: Can I use this font in my mobile app ?

A: You may use this font in your app ONLY IF THE TEXT IS FLAT and part of a design. You may not use the font LIVE in a mobile app (where users can create custom words with the Font) – For this you require an “App License” and a “Custom Creation License”

Q: Can I use this font in my ebook or book publication?

A: Yes you may – no extra licensing is required. In ebook publications the font is to remain flat and not embedded.

Q: Can I use this font in customisable PDF templates for sale?

A: No – you will require a “ Custom Creation License” for this purpose.

Q: I'm getting tiny “spiderwebs” when I use the font at very small sizes or when I zoom out a lot.

A: This font is a highly detailed textured font – not suitable for use at tiny sizes – too much detail cannot be concentrated into too small a space on your screen/print. Its best not to use the font at very small sizes. If you do have to use the font at a small size , I would recommend using the TTF files instead of the OTF files.

If you have a question not listed above – feel free to message me directly and I'll help you along :)