Thanks for downloading my font.

Opening the .zip file you've downloaded

Mac OSX

Comes with built-in support for expanding .zip files, so simply double-clicking the .zip file should show the fonts it contains.

Windows

If you're using Windows XP or later, right-click the .zip archive and select "Extract All," which will create a new folder containing your fonts in the location of your choice.

How to install fonts on a Mac

To activate a font, install it using Font Book, Apple's font management software included with OSX. Launch Font Book from your Applications folder, and drag the font files from the OpenType folder you downloaded into the middle pane labelled "Font."

More information about Font Book.

How to install fonts on Windows

To activate a font on any version of Windows, navigate to Computer ‣ Local Disk (C:) ‣ Windows ‣ Fonts. Locate the folder you've expanded from the downloaded .zip file, and drag the font files into the Fonts folder.

THANK YOU
